Summer Break May be Ending but The Fun Continues: WonderWorks Branson to Host Back-to-School Bash to Kick Off New School Year

BRANSON, Missouri – (July 22, 2024) – Summer break may be winding down, but plenty of fun is still within reach at WonderWorks Branson. The upside-down house is hosting a Back 2 School Bash this August, offering families a fun way to finish out summer and slide into the new school year. The event will be held daily from August 2-11, 2024, with locals able to score discounted tickets for only $15, plus tax. Taking part in some educational, upside-down fun before school starts is a great way to foster a smooth transition back into the classroom and drum up some excitement for the new school year.

“We never want the summer to end!” said Brenda Dent, general manager at WonderWorks Branson. “We’re excited to bring back our Back 2 School Bash to go out with a bang. This is a great way to soak up the last moments of summer and make some memories with your friends and family at a discounted price.”

Event tickets grant guests access to everything WonderWorks Branson has to offer. Science fans of all ages can explore over 100 interactive exhibits and activities based on science, technology, engineering, art, and mathematics (STEAM). They can check out such exhibits as American Pride, Dr. Seuss’s Unorthodox Taxidermy, the Bubble Lab, the Hurricane Shack, an Astronaut Training Gyroscope, and much more.

To attend this special event, guests must snag a mobile coupon for the discounted Back 2 School Bash tickets. To do so, local residents can text B2SBR to 73028. Guests must then present the text message they receive back along with proof of residency to the team at admissions to purchase their tickets. The event tickets are open to all those who live in select counties in Southwest Missouri and Northwest Arkansas.

Qualifying Missouri counties include: Vernon, Barton, Jasper, Newton, McDonald, St. Clair, Cedar Dade, Lawrence, Barry, Hickory, Polk, Greene, Christian, Taney, Dallas, Webster, Laclede, Wright, Douglas, Ozark, and Stone. Qualifying Arkansas counties include: Benton, Washington, Madison, Carroll, Newton, Searcy, Marion, and Boone.

“With all of our interactive, STEM-themed exhibits, WonderWorks is the perfect place to ease students back into learning after a long summer. Everyone will get hands-on experiences in concepts like the principles of pressure, pulley systems, G-forces, and so much more. You’ll learn something new while exploring, whether you realize it or not!” said Brenda Dent, general manager at WonderWorks Branson.

As the summer comes to a close and schools open back up, WonderWorks Branson is also an ideal destination for groups of all kinds. Groups of 15 people or more qualify for a discounted admission rate when they book their visit in advance. WonderWorks' special group offerings are ideal for those hosting summer camps, entertaining scouts, leading sports teams, and all other groups looking for a unique bonding adventure. Looking ahead at the 2024-25 school year, WonderWorks will continue to be a great destination for field trips, college excursions, sports teams, and more. This fall, they will also host special Homeschool Days for homeschooled students and their families.
