WonderWorks Branson Debuts New Exhibits Ahead of Spring Break Rush

Magic Canvas AI and SuperBlaster bring new STEAM-powered experiences to the upside-down attraction, giving families even more to explore this season

BRANSON, Mo. – (March 12, 2026) – It’s an exciting time for Branson and Missouri families as spring break arrives. During this time, families will be looking for fun and educational things to do, which they will definitely find at WonderWorks Branson, and the popular attraction is launching new exhibits just in time for the spring break rush, giving guests even more to explore. WonderWorks, conveniently located on the Branson Strip, is the go-to spot for educational, family fun this spring.

“We’re all ready for spring break here at WonderWorks! Let your imagination run wild in our indoor amusement park for the mind. The facility is filled with fun for all ages! You won’t want to miss it” said Brenda Dent, general manager at WonderWorks Branson.

There will be two exciting new exhibits installed at the upside-down house in time for spring break, giving both first-time visitors and returners some new, fun-filled STEAM opportunities. The exhibits give everyone a chance to have fun as they explore activities focused on science, technology, engineering, art, and mathematics (STEAM). First up, guests can let their creativity shine as they watch their artwork come to life at the new Magic Canvas AI. Using their fingertips, guests can draw a prompt on a small screen and watch it be magically enhanced on a bigger screen. The exhibit combines art and technology to create a STEAM masterpiece.

The other exciting new exhibit is SuperBlaster, where the XD Motion Theater meets laser tag. Guests will take a seat, choose their game, and get ready for a thrilling simulator. They will be dazzled by the motion seats, wind effects, blasters, and more. Everyone gets the opportunity to work as a team to complete the levels, or they can go solo in a head-to-head, friendly competition—competing to achieve the highest score.

Both new exhibits will be added to the lineup of over 100 interactive attractions at WonderWorks Branson. They are family-friendly and great for minds of all ages, giving everyone a chance to explore, learn, have fun, and make memories. WonderWorks tickets are all-inclusive, providing unlimited access to all the exhibits, laser tag, and the XD Motion Theater for one price. Tickets can be purchased online in advance.

Once spring break season closes, WonderWorks Branson is turning their attention to bringing locals some scientific fun. WonderWorks Branson’s Local Appreciation Days will be returning in April 2026. Residents of Southwest Missouri and Northwest Arkansas are invited to explore the upside-down house for only $16 plus tax per person during the event. Proof of residency will be required at the door to redeem the discount offer. To get a full list of qualifying counties and plan your visit, visit the website: <https://www.wonderworksonline.com/branson/local-appreciation/>.

“Our locals are truly the best, so we’re excited to welcome them to the upside-down house this spring,” said Tim Church, sales manager at WonderWorks Branson. “Local Appreciation Days are a great time to come see what’s new, bond with loved ones, and more at an exclusive low price. Add a visit to your April calendar!”

The over 100 interactive exhibits at WonderWorks Branson have been designed to provide guests with a fun and memorable way to learn more about various STEAM topics. They also offer STEM/STEAM activities and events throughout the year. They provide team-building activities, group rates, field trip packages, scout visits, event space, birthday party parties, and more. There are numerous event packages and group rates available with advanced reservations. WonderWorks Branson offers over 48,000 square feet of family-friendly, engaging activities. The park is open daily from 10 am to 9 pm this spring. For more information or to purchase tickets, visit the website: <https://www.wonderworksonline.com/branson>.
