WonderWorks Branson is Showing Their Appreciation for Teachers, Nurses and Military Throughout May

BRANSON, Mo. – (May 4, 2026) – May is a month that puts three important professions in the spotlight around the nation, and WonderWorks Branson is supporting that by showing their appreciation in a wonderful way. The month offers a special time to celebrate those in the fields of teaching, nursing, and the armed forces. Those working in these fields will be able to score discounted tickets to WonderWorks for them and their loved ones this spring to have fun, explore, and make memories at a top Branson attraction during select dates.

“Before the summer kicks off, we always enjoy spreading some love throughout our community,” said Tim Church, sales manager at WonderWorks Branson. “These three professions make a difference in our communities every day! Come unwind with a well-deserved adventure at WonderWorks!”

Each May, these three important professions are put into the spotlight around the country as people celebrate Teacher Appreciation Week, National Nurses Week, and Armed Forces Week. WonderWorks Branson is spreading appreciation for these hard-working individuals by giving back to them as best they can. Teachers, nurses, and those in the armed forces will want to get in on the fun during their profession’s celebratory event at the upside-down house, offering a great place for people of all ages to let loose and have some educational fun.

The three special career-focused celebrations include:

WonderWorks Branson is highlighting educators as the classroom superheroes they are and commemorating a great school year of partnerships, field trips, and more. All teachers and school support staff are invited to register for this event to explore the upside-down house for free during the month of May, giving them a great place to celebrate and close out another great school year. Up to four guests will also receive 50% off their admission tickets. All public and private school teachers and support staff can register online to receive the voucher. Nurses can snag free admission at the door during this special weeklong event, and up to four guests can get discounted admission of only $10 plus tax each. The deal is open to all nursing specialties. Employee identification must be presented at the door to redeem the offer. WonderWorks is taking the week to salute and honor all those who serve by providing free admission to all active duty and retired military personnel. Military identification can be shown at the door to redeem the offer. Additional guests tagging along can take advantage of a $23.99 military admission rate.

"This spring and summer season is an ideal time to visit the upside-down house. We've recently added several new exhibits that guests are getting to experience for the first time. We're gearing up to celebrate America's 250th anniversary and much more," added Church.
