I Scream You Scream We All Scream for Sundae Fundaes at WonderWorks!

WonderWorks Hosts Ice Cream Social Days to Benefit Local Charities

Orlando, FL (October 25, 2017) –WonderWorks, Orlando’s upside-down adventure, has made 2017 the year of giving back. For the past two months, the indoor family attraction has given first responders and their families free admission to thank them for their hard work during Hurricane Irma. Now on select Sunday’s called “Sundae Fundae.” the team at WonderWorks invites residents of Orange, Osceola, Seminole, Brevard, Lake, Polk & Volusia counties to come and experience the attraction for $12. During “Sundae Fundaes”, guests can make their own ice cream sundae and 20% of the proceeds from the sale of the dessert bar and café will go towards a partner charity.

The first charity lined up is A Gift for Teaching, Central Florida’s primary provider of free school supplies to teachers for their students in need. A Gift for Teaching needs donations now more than ever, as students displaced from Puerto Rico after hurricane Maria have relocated to Central Florida and are without any basic school materials.

“We greatly appreciate the generosity of Wonderworks as we strive to meet the immediate needs of Central Florida students affected by the recent natural disasters,” said Jane Thompson, President at A Gift for Teaching. “As more displaced families relocate to the area, Wonderworks’ support will enable A Gift for Teaching to help more students than ever.”

Moving forward, WonderWorks will partner with the United Service Organization during Veteran's Day Weekend and Give Kids the World for the holiday season. They will also hold Sensory Nights, where exhibits with loud noises and bright lights are deactivated to create a warm environment for children with special needs.

"We have been a staple in Orlando for nearly 20 years, and it is so important to us to give back to our community," said General Manager, Brian Wayne. "We hope that these events give people a special way to spend time with family and friends, and inspire them to get involved in giving back to Central Florida too!"

Guests can purchase discounted Sundae Fundae tickets at the door, and will be able to create their delicious ice cream concoction in the Wonder Café.
