Get Ready to Believe in Magic This Holiday Season! Family-Friendly “Outta Control Holiday Dinner Show” Returns to WonderWorks Orlando.

ORLANDO, Florida - (December 3, 2024) – In what has become a popular tradition for many people in Central Florida, WonderWorks Orlando’s wildly popular holiday-themed dinner show is returning for the 2024 season. “The Outta Control Magic Comedy Holiday Dinner Show” will entertain families from December 7, 2024, through January 4, 2025. There will be nightly shows, and tickets are expected to sell out quickly. Locals and vacationers alike are encouraged to secure their reservations right away.

“I’ll be unwrapping some new holiday magic this year, and I hope you will join us at the show! Don’t miss this fun, unique holiday offering the whole family can enjoy,” said Tony Brent, the headlining magician in “The Outta Control Magic Comedy Dinner Show.”

The popular show offers holiday cheer, fantastic magic, and plenty of audience participation. Brent will perform five nights a week, dazzling the crowd with a new holiday-themed magic show that involves Ebenezer Scrooge, eggnog, and a tutorial on how to magically dress for the holidays that guests will not want to miss. On the other two nights, audiences can enjoy special guest entertainers from our merry cast of magicians, all incorporating their own festive fun into the show. Visit the website for a schedule of performers.

Shows will run nightly at 6 pm, with select nights offering additional shows at 4 pm and 8 pm. Families will laugh and create holiday memories together, and some may even get a chance to participate in the show. The dinner includes unlimited fresh, hand-tossed cheese and pepperoni pizza, fresh salad, beer, wine, soda, and a tasty dessert. There will also be two holiday-themed specialty cocktails that adults can purchase, including the Candy Cane (featuring peppermint schnapps, spiced rum, Starry, and grenadine), and the Jack Frost (which has vodka, Starry, and blue curacao).

Guests can shop at the gift shop before and after the show to score some great holiday gifts for their young magicians. From individual tricks to full magic kits, there’s something for magic fans of all ages to try their hand at. Tickets to “The Outta Control Magic Comedy Holiday Dinner Show” are $26.99, plus tax, per child and seniors, and $36.99, plus tax, per adult. To purchase tickets, visit the site at:

“There’s no better place to celebrate the holidays than Orlando!” said Brian Wayne, general manager at WonderWorks Orlando. “We’re proud to offer an exciting, unique entertainment experience here at the upside-down house all month long. Wear your best holiday sweaters and get your cameras ready to capture some lasting memories.”

WonderWorks Orlando is participating in the Nathaniel's Hope Toy Drive to celebrate the holiday season further. The upside-down house will be a toy drop-off location for the program throughout December, with the team encouraging the public to bring in new, unwrapped toys to be donated to Nathaniel's Toy Shop. This annual pop-up toy shop provides holiday gifts for local families and those with special needs. This is a great chance for everyone to spread some holiday cheer and give back to the Central Florida community.
