Springboard to Discovery: Dive into the Wonders of WonderWorks Pigeon Forge!

This Spring, Transform Curiosity into Creativity with Engaging Activities and Exciting Events

PIGEON FORGE, Tenn. (April 7, 2025) - WonderWorks Pigeon Forge is known as a dynamic place for educational fun year-round. They have taken educational topics and turned them into hands-on exhibits and activities that engage the mind and the senses. This spring, WonderWorks is kicking it up another notch with numerous education-related activities, ticket giveaways, group offerings, special events to help meet the educational needs for all.

"We love working with schools, educators, local libraries, and more here at WonderWorks, so spring is truly one of our favorite times of the year! Science fans of all ages are sure to walk inside in awe and leave with their imaginations running wild," said Ellen Holland, education sales manager at WonderWorks Pigeon Forge.

This spring, the upside-down house will offer a variety of events and activities aimed at engaging people and spreading a love of learning. All the exhibits and activities throughout the facility are STEAM-based (science, technology, engineering, art, and mathematics), which help guests develop a strong sense of critical thinking, creativity, and problem-solving. They also help provide people with scientific literacy and boost curiosity, which feeds young minds.

Some of the events and activities they will host for spring 2025 include:

- Field Trips – This is an excellent time for field trips, and WonderWorks is looking forward to welcoming numerous school groups for theirs. Field trips to WonderWorks provide students with a hands-on educational experience and are a fun way to explore more about the topics they are learning about in the classroom. Field trips can be planned online.
- National Library Week – Held from April 6-12, 2025, people can celebrate National Library Week by scoring a free admission ticket to WonderWorks at participating libraries when they register for a first-time library card. Tickets are available at all Sevier County Libraries, the Pigeon Forge Library, and the Anna Porter Public Library, while supplies last. The library will provide the ticket, which must be presented along with the new library card when redeeming the ticket.
- Teacher Appreciation – In May 2025, WonderWorks will hold its annual Teacher Appreciation Days. This allows local teachers and education support staff to visit WonderWorks for free all month long and bring up to four guests at a discounted rate. Registration details will be announced soon. This is WonderWorks' way of showing gratitude to all local educators and all they do to inspire the next generation of scientists, creatives, and leaders.

Between these exciting events and their usual offerings, WonderWorks is a great spring break destination for all ages. It provides the perfect spot for indoor fun this spring break. Whether choosing to hop into a roller coaster simulator or create giant bubbles the size of basketballs, there is something for every local and vacationer. Make a point to stop in one day during spring break to see what all the fun is about.

"Happy spring break to our locals!" said Joe Baumgartner, general manager at WonderWorks Pigeon Forge. "Whether you're looking for a full day of fun or a quick evening activity, WonderWorks is the place to be."

WonderWorks offers a wealth of fun and engaging activities for guests to explore. With over 42,000 square feet of "edutainment," WonderWorks is an indoor amusement park for the mind. The over 100 hands-on exhibits include physical challenges, a space discovery area, natural disaster simulators, a light and sound zone, and the far-out art gallery.

WonderWorks Pigeon Forge is open daily from 9 am to 9 pm this spring, with the last ticket sold one hour before closing. For more information, visit <https://www.wonderworksonline.com/pigeon-forge/>.
